INHORGENTA MUNICH

Date: Feb 16 - 19, 2018

As at previous events, we would like to support your press work for INHORGENTA MUNICH 2017 by providing you with our services. In this context, the new INHORGENTA MUNICH website plays a key role. As from now, our website does not only present itself in a new design. It is also in top shape in terms of functionality, structure and contents. It is user-friendly, optimized for search engines and suitable for smartphones and tablets. These are ideal prerequisites for the presentation of your products or services in words and pictures.

With an online press compartment, for example, you can increase the reach of your information, because the press pages of the INHORGENTA MUNICH website are an important source of information for the national and international media before, during and after the trade show. However, the popular “analog” Press Compartment at the Press Center West will also be offered again at INHORGENTA MUNICH 2017. We will be pleased to support your public relations activities in connection with your trade show presence by providing you with our services and know-how.

We look forward to cooperating with you.

Press compartment at Press Center West Leave your press folders on display.

A press compartment at the Press Center West—central hub for the media—is perfect for targeted presentation of your information materials. We recommend compiling 30 complete press folders with text releases and images each in German and English. Reserve a separate compartment for each language. Upon request, we reserve a press compartment. Your press compartment will be taken care of and refilled by a hostess during INHORGENTA MUNICH 2016.

Costs: EUR 35 (plus VAT) compartment
